

GALAS FOR A GOOD CAUSE

On this page, Datebook spotlights The Shakespeare Theatre of New Jersey Spring Gala Brush Up Your Shakespeare XI at the Park Avenue Club in Florham Park; the Dwight-Englewood School's Spring Fashion Show and Luncheon at the Rockleigh Country Club; and the wine and cheese reception for Kings Cooking Studio at Highlawn Pavilion in West Orange.

Photo by Warren Westura

ABOVE: Shakespeare Theatre Trustee Jacqueline Brevard Thiam and Laye Thiam of Westfield chat with trustee Pamela P. Hirsch of Basking Ridge and Karen Henry of Randolph. The event raised more than $280,000 for arts and education programs.

ABOVE: Twenty finalists in the Kings Cooking Studio Chocolate Recipe Contest were honored at a wine and cheese reception at Highlawn Pavilion. Left to right, Judges Arthur Schwartz, David Kaufmann, Debra Josephs, Grand Prize Winner Audrey Cohen, and judge Carole Walter. The event was a fundraiser for the Anita Kaufmann Foundation.

RIGHT: Among the 370 guests at The Shakespeare Theatre gala were BBC Vice President Rick Siggelkow of South Nyack, New York, and Emmy-Award winning journalist Anisa Mehdi of Maplewood, a member of The Shakespeare Theatre Board of Trustees.

Photo by Warren Westura

ABOVE: At the Dwight-Englewood School luncheon are (left to right) Samantha Beinbacher, Barb Golub, Ani Kasparian and Toby Weinstein. The event, which featured Neiman Marcus Spring/Summer 2005 Collections, raised $30,000 to benefit the Faculty and Staff Endowment Fund.

LEFT: At Dwight-Englewood's spring fashion show are (left to right) Stephanie Wolfer, Helen Jerome, Ina Mufson, Achint Chhachhi, Ruzena Goldenberg, Daphne Kricheff, Denise Mandelbaum, Linda Romita, and Dana Romita-Cox.

Keep us posted on your organization's events and extravaganzas! Send photos and info to: New Jersey Savvy Living, Attn: Datebook, P.O. Box 607, Short Hills, NJ 07078.